Forecast For Southwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 0400 on Sunday 28 Nov 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 0600 and 1800

Headline:
Sunny and dry in the east, but cloudier further west.

Today:
Showers across Cornwall dying out through the day. Otherwise, after a frosty start, a dry day for most with lots of sunshine. Lighter winds than of late, but still feeling cold. Maximum temperature 8 deg C (46 deg F).

Tonight:
An area of cloud moves southwards through the evening, bringing patchy light rain and, perhaps, a little sleet or snow over the moors. Turning drier, clearer, and colder behind. Minimum temperature -2 deg C (28 deg F).

Monday:
A frosty start for many, but a dry day with occasional sunny spells, the best of these in the east. Still rather cold but turning milder in the far west. Maximum temperature 10 deg C (50 deg F).

Outlook for Tuesday to Thursday:
Windier again by Tuesday with outbreaks of rain, but also feeling a bit milder. Blustery and showery on Wednesday, though turning colder again. Showers largely easing through Thursday.
